GUARANTEES SUCCESSFUL HID PRODUCT IMPLEMENTATION

- Embed Trust - HID Professional Services offers project management support to help our customers perform proper and successful implementation of projects and embed trust in digital devices.
- Convenient - A dedicated project manager is assigned to manage all the project related activities and manage all other involved HID teams to all other involved HID teams like engineering or product management.

The HID Professional Services team is committed to delivering value and reducing business risk through the successful integration of Genuine HID® products and solutions. Our Project Management support package provides the appropriate methodology for a successful implementation of our products in a timely manner.

HID Global offers a wide range of identification and authentication platforms supporting contact smart cards, RFID and Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) technologies to be integrated in 3rd party applications like PCs and printers, but also vending machines or elevators. A proper integration is the key for a successful solution that is reliable, has the right performance and delivers an exceptional end-user experience.

A proper implementation project of HID contact / contactless readers or reader boards starts with understanding the requirements of our customers followed by identifying potential gaps between the features a product provides and what is required. Based on that finding, a design and implementation strategy must be created. Such documentation shall include test scenarios for any use case to facilitate a review of the final implementation against the design specification.

The project management package provides these services and continuous project management support with a dedicated project manager. This single point of contact from HID Global will control the process and maintain the project schedule.

HID Professional Services applies a proven approach developed over the course of more than two decades of experience in deploying access control, strong authentication and credential management projects.

The HID Professional Services Project Assurance methodology helps you meet the most complex deployment challenges, minimizing costly errors and ensuring your investment is protected long into the future.
